

AODOCS for Life Sciences

A modern, intelligent quality management solution to address FDA and GxP compliance in Life Sciences organizations

Technology is Transforming Life Sciences

New technology is providing life sciences organizations the opportunity to radically change their business.

Execute

Digitize and rationalize processes to drive efficiencies and cost savings, and develop a digital culture that enables new ways of thinking and capabilities

Engage

Drive a new engagement model that creates and delivers targeted interactions that address customer/patient/employee needs and foster loyal relationships

Innovate

Catalyze the development of products, services, and new business models to drive value for customers using data and innovative platforms

A constant across all of these areas is quality management and the associated need to comply with and continuously assess against compliance regulations, such as FDA 21 CFR Part 11.

AODOCS for Life Sciences is a Quality Management Solution (QMS) that helps life science companies address these needs and intelligently move towards more efficient execution, more effective engagement, and faster delivery of innovative products.
